The European Hydrogen Energy Conference 2014 will take place in Seville (Spain) from March 12th to 14th, 2014, organized by the Spanish Hydrogen Association (AeH2), under the auspices of the European Hydrogen Association (EHA).

The Spanish Hydrogen Association (AeH2) is honored to invite all international stakeholders on hydrogen and fuel cells technologies and subjects relating to hydrogen production, storage, transport and end uses to participate in EHEC 2014. For this purpose we issue this CALL FOR ABSTRACTS.

Abstracts deadline extended: October 20th, 2013

To ensure the success of the conference, EHEC 2014 will consist of guest plenary sessions and topical technical sessions, as follows:

1. Hydrogen production: Reforming
2. Hydrogen production: Others
3. Hydrogen storage
4. Fuel cell components and stacks, R&D
5. Hydrogen and Fuel cell systems and applications
6. Control and power conditioning
7. Hydrogen distribution and filling stations
8. Markets strategies
9. Companies and commercialization
10. Codes and standards
11. Safety and environmental issues
12. Countries strategies and associations
13. Other related topics of interest

Participants who would like to make an oral or poster presentation are requested to submit an abstract electronically. The abstract will contain from 500 to 1500 words, and a maximum of two figures (graphics or tables). The instructions, abstract format and the accompanying form to be completed, are available at the conference webpage: www.ehec.info. The submitted abstracts will undergo a reviewing process. Acceptance will be notified by the Program and Scientific Committee by November 30th, 2013. Authors of accepted abstracts will have the chance to submit a full paper of their work that may be selected for publication in a special issue of the International Journal of Hydrogen Energy.

To submit abstracts and for the latest information on the conference, please visit our website at: www.ehec.info.

Authors are advised that abstracts will not be included in the final program unless registration documents and payment in full have been received for at least one of the authors.
